Virginia Weddings. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] KESWICK, VA., July 1.—The marriage of Miss Lucile Richards to Mr. C. Ashley Cook was solemnized at noon Tuesday at "Landlady" in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Richards. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. E. Valentine Jones, and was strictly private. The only witnesses were the bride's mother and father; her brother, Mr. Carl Richards; Miss Imogene Richards, the bride's little sister, and Miss Lucile Pugh, maid of honor, and the best man, Mr. Henry Band, of Chicago. After the ceremony a delightful luncheon was served to the wedding party. The house was beautifully decorated in flowers, white and yellow being the color scheme. The bride's table was a mass of white delais, and from the table hung ropes of delais. The bride was gowned in a lovely white organdie, elaborately trimmed in Valenciennes lace, and carried a shower bouquet of white sweet peas. Miss Lucile Pugh, the maid of honor, wore a dainty pale blue embroidered silk mill, and carried pale blue sweet peas. There was a general reception for the many friends of the bride from 2 to 4 o'clock. Misses Edith and Lila Rankin presided at the punch bowl, and Mrs. Thurman looked after the wants of the guests in the dining room. Delightful refreshments were served. The wedding presents were numerous and handsome. The bride's going-away gown was pale gray voile, with hat and traveling coat to match. Miss Richards has been a favorite among her many friends here, and she will be greatly missed. Among the invited guests were Mr. and Mrs. Houghton, Mr. and Mrs. Pare, Mr. and Mrs. Will Money, Dr. and Mrs. Shackelford, Miss Shackelford, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony, Miss Anthony, Mr. and Mrs. Everett, Mr. and Mrs. Money, Mrs. Money, Mrs. Dickinson, Rev. and Mrs. Jones, Miss Jones, Mr. Crawford, Mr. Whaley, Mr. and Mrs. Sampson, Mr. and Mrs. Morris, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Murray, Mr. and Mrs. Randolph, Misses Randolph, Mr. Caves, Mr. and Mrs. Creigh, Mr. and Mrs. Rankin, Misses Rankin, Mrs. Bloom, the Misses Bloom, Mrs. Ingersoll, Mrs. Carridine, Mrs. Arrott, Misses Arrott, Mrs. Koert, Miss Summerville, Miss Pugh, Dr. and Mrs. Thurman, Mr. and Mrs. Horne, Mr. and Mrs. Magruder, Mr. and Mrs. Meason, Mrs. Lambeth, Mr. Band.

Smith-Sanderson. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] CHARLESVILLE, VA., July 1.—A beautiful wedding was solemnized yesterday at 1:30 o'clock, when Miss Mary Walton Sanderson became the wife of Mr. Lucian Smith, the Rev. J. W. Gee, of Charlesville, being the celebrant. The ceremony was performed at "Rose Cottage," near Ashby, the home of the bride, in the presence of a large number of friends and relatives. The parlors were beautifully decorated with delais and evergreen. The aisles were formed of ribbon, held in place by Master William Sanderson and Miss Lily Bell Sanderson, and Master Garland Clements and Miss Jane Sanderson. Miss Sallie Duke, of near Cartersville, rendered Mendelssohn's wedding march as the bridal party entered the room. The bride, gowned in white mousseline made in princess, her veil caught with orange blossoms, and carrying white carnations, entered with her sister, Miss Willie Sanderson, of Richmond, as maid of honor. The groom, attended by Mr. Asbury Flippen, a brother-in-law, and Mr. Walter. Other attendants were Miss Virginia Ballimore with Mr. Layton Flippen, Miss Martha England with Mr. John Hoop and Miss Ethel Smith with Mr. Welford Dawson. Following the impressive ring ceremony Miss Sallie Duke sang "Love Me and the World is Mine." After the ceremony the couple drove to the Department, where they boarded the train for an extended tour. They will be at home to their friends at Oak Forest Va., after July 10th. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Rebecca Sanderson, and the late Z. T. Sanderson, of Ashby, and is a very attractive young lady. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Sanderson, of near Farmville, Va. Some of those present for the marriage from a distance were Miss Georgia Bowles, of Maidens; Miss Willie Sanderson, of Richmond; Miss Virginia Ballimore, and Mr. Caruthers, of near Farmville, Va. Three Danville Weddings. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] DANVILLE, VA., July 1.—Miss Beulah Priddy called on Mr. Claude Kelly Fulton, who was united in marriage yesterday morning at the home of the bride's mother in the presence of a number of friends. The bride is connected with the firm of Swanson Bros. and Company, of this city, and the bride is an attractive young lady. Mr. and Mrs. Fulton will make their home in this city after a Northern honeymoon. Miss Nettie Farley and Mr. Joseph Abbott Pruitt were married at 5 o'clock yesterday morning at the home of Mrs. J. T. Deal, sister of the bride, in the presence of many intimate friends. Mr. and Mrs. Pruitt left shortly after the ceremony for Washington and Baltimore, and upon their return will reside in this city. A pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Elder and Mrs. Thomas N. Walton, on North Main Street, last night, when Miss Nancy Davis, a professor, but is in a frame neighborhood, and after notice from the office of the Building Inspector and a delay of ten days, no objection was entered by property owners on the block. Miss Lucy Temple, to repair a brick dwelling at No. 311 West Grace Street, cost, $200. NO OBJECTION FILED. Mrs. Dawson to Erect Frame Dwelling on South Pine Street. Building and repair permits were issued yesterday for the following: Mrs. Sue S. Dawson, to erect a frame dwelling at No. 312 South Pine Street; Mrs. S. S. Dawson, to replace a brick structure, but is in a frame neighborhood, and after notice from the office of the Building Inspector and a delay of ten days, no objection was entered by property owners on the block. Mrs. Lucy Temple, to repair a brick dwelling at No. 311 West Grace Street, cost, $200. MEAT PRICES DOWN. Hot Weather and Vegetable Supply Affected. Quotations Generally. No positive statement about the prices of different meats could be obtained from wholesale dealers yesterday beyond the assertion that quotations were dropping steadily. The greatest decrease was in the price of beef, which has become about half a cent cheaper in the last few weeks. The market for pork, lamb and veal, were said to be selling at the same figure. Retail dealers at the Seventeenth Street market accounted for the drop in price by the increased demand for vegetables and fruits—mountain produce which are difficult to get at this time of the year. Though cattle is scarce, this is nothing unusual, for the heavy shipments are made from the West. The market dealers declare that they are selling meats at a loss on account of the high prices maintained by wholesale houses. Compared with the size of the crops, vegetable prices are also abnormally high. The output this year has been remarkably large in farm products. Shipments of poultry, butter and eggs are coming in at such a rate that prices must be forced down considerably in the near future. Fruit is also plentiful at the market, and all prices are either at or below those of last year, with prospects of being still lower.

Richmond Men to Prepare Volume Dealing With Record of Race. Two of the best known colored citizens of Richmond are at work on a volume for use in the colored schools of this country, to be known as "The Industrial History of the Negro Race in the United States." They are Giles B. Jackson, the negro lawyer and professor, and George Steiner, a professor and lecturer. The volume will be in large measure an outgrowth of the negro industrial exhibit at the Jamestown Exhibition, in which the industrial development of the race was traced in a series of well prepared exhibits. Jackson and Steiner are revising the manuscript, and the book will be ready for use within a few weeks.

News Gathered From Southside.. Speaking of the action of the board of stewards of the Central Methodist Church, of Manchester, with regard to Randolph-Macon College, a prominent member of the board had a sharp word yesterday that he felt sure that the matter of providing funds for the college would be warmly discussed at the district conference next month. The district and final action in the matter would be taken at the General Conference at Epworth Church, Norfolk, in November. Considerable stir was occasioned among the Methodists around Norfolk when they heard of the resolution passed by their Manchester brethren. It is not yet known whether the individual churches throughout the State will follow the example of the Manchester congregation and refuse to contribute to the support of Randolph-Macon College, if that institution continues to deny its connection with and its subordination to the Methodist Episcopal Church of Virginia. Members of the board of the Manchester church have stated that prominent lawyers have looked into the matter, and are of the opinion that if the case were brought before a court of law it would be decided unfavorably to the college. Old Resident, Dead. John H. Sneed, who was the oldest citizen of Manchester, died yesterday morning at 7:30 o'clock in his home, 803 Porter Street. Mr. Sneed had been ill for some time. He was a great home lover, and his relatives say that he had not been as far away from home as Richmond or Petersburg since Leo surrendered. He came to Manchester when he was fourteen years old and lived here seventy-two years. Mr. Sneed leaves nine children—the Rev. Charles Sneed, Henry Sneed, Miss Elsie Sneed, Mrs. T. H. Smith, wife of Postmaster Smith; Mrs. Sallie Drum-beller, Earnest Sneed and Edward Sneed. Thirty-four grandchildren survive him. The funeral will take place from Garbage on Fourth. As Saturday will be a national holiday, Health Officer Ely yesterday morning notified the residents of Manchester that the city will not collect boxes or barrels of ashes, dirt and garbage, as the wagons will not call that day, since the city employees will be taking a holiday. Much Committee Work. The Committee on the Fire Department met last Tuesday night and granted a number of permits for new buildings. The committee on the permit to put up a residence on Tenth Street was refused, on the ground that the site of the proposed building was on the line of an alley yet to be cut. The Light Committee met and decided to add five more lights to those under the present contract. The Committee on Health awarded the contract for the food supply to Ullman Bros., and the contract for blacking to W. W. Alley. The Committee on the Cemetery ordered some improvements on the superintendent's office. The fire commissioners failed to get a quorum. The Committee on Streets is scheduled to meet on Friday afternoon. The Committee on Finance will meet to-morrow night. Had Narrow Escape. Mr. Junie Brown, of Chesterfield, came near having a very serious accident yesterday afternoon, when his buggy was broken by running into the curbstone on Tenth Street near Hull. The bug was broken, and he was entirely from the front wheels, but bystanders caught the horse and aided Mr. Brown in getting on his feet. The horse was injured, but he could be repaired in time to allow Mr. Brown to return to his farm yesterday evening.

Says Byrd Law is Defective. The question as to who under the Byrd law is to decide whether or not a man is an habitual drunkard was brought sharply to the front before Mayor Maurice in the Manchester Police Court yesterday, when Connie Belknap, a bartender, and a constable, Elder bartender, were tried on the charge preferred by Mrs. George Stein that they had sold liquor to her husband, a well known character in the city, who was an habitual drunkard, and had requested the proprietor not to sell him intoxicants under any circumstances. From beginning to end the case was fought bitterly, more than twelve witnesses being present on each side. The case was argued by the constable to Stein's habits, Chief of Police Lipscomb stated that Stein had been known to sell liquor to her husband, and that he had been forced to take the plea, and had been sent to jail in the efforts to reform him. Ernest Wells, who acted as a defense in summing up, said that the Byrd law laid the responsibility of determining whether a man was in a state of habitual drunkenness on the bartender. In this case, he continued, the accused had proved that, so far as their knowledge ran, Stein was not an habitual drunkard, and was therefore entitled to buy liquor. In concluding, Mr. Wells stated to the court that he had written them a letter, in which he had requested a buy a drink from Belknap's bar-room. Commonweal's Attorney Charles L.
